

7. European Industry and Research Exchange

Innovative Materials for Technical Textile: safe – sustainable – bio-based

5th May 2023, 09:00 to 16:00 CET, Frankfurt a.M., Germany, www.eutt.net

09:00-09:30	Arriving and registration: IVGT e.V., Mainzer Landstr. 55, 60329 Frankfurt a.M., Germany
Session 1 09:30-10:30	Status and Outlook on the Regulatory Framework for Sustainable Textiles and Processes. Claudia Landgraf , CEO t+m CSR Consulting GmbH, Germany Johannes Diebel , CEO Forschungskuratorium Textil e.V., Germany  Status Quo on the shopfloor – Penn Textile – Our practical experience with customers and suppliers regarding environmental and sustainable aspects Markus Regenstein , CEO Penn Textile Solutions, Germany/Italy  Sustainable and durable technical textiles from Basalt stones Wouter Verbouwe , Basaltex, Belgium  Advanced mineral reinforcements for more sustainable future, as alternative for carbon &amp; fiberglass in the composite manufacturing Lucie Souvy , Isomatex S.A., Belgium
10:30-11:00	Questions &amp; Answers, Coffee break
Session 2 11:00-12:00	Filamentous green algae as potential raw material in the textile industry Leon Blanckard , Niederrhein University of Applied Sciences, Germany  When safety meets sustainability – bio-circulare PPE Andrea Borgis , Radici Group, Italy  Evaluating the Potential of Polylactide Nonwovens in Durable Application Larisa Tsarkova , Deutsches Textilforschungszentrum Nord-West, Germany  Low Carbone and selective soluton for every type of Polyester textiles Raouf Medimagh , Recy-elit, France
12:00-13:00	Questions &amp; Answers, Lunch break

The organizers of the 7. European Industry and Research Exchange are:

7. European Industry and Research Exchange

Innovative Materials for Technical Textile: safe – sustainable – bio-based

5th May 2023, 09:00 to 16:00 CET, Frankfurt a.M., Germany, www.eutt.net

Session 3 13:00-14:00	Dare innovation with bio-based wark-knitting – spinning and knitting of PCL Clément Durand, Texinov, France Innovative warp knits for sustainable technical textiles used in work wear Franziska Guth, Karl Mayer Stoll R&amp;D GmbH, Germany Innovative dry powder impregnation technology for technical textiles Jerome Ville, Fibroline S.A., France Body-worn smart shirt produced from biocompatible conductive yarns for telemedicine Pulkit Mishra, Textile Research Institute Thuringia-Vogtland e.V., Germany
14:00-14:30	Questions &amp; Answers, Coffee break
Session 4 14:30-15:30	“Bio-retting” – tool supporting the complex waste-less utilization of renewable bast fibre resources Jan Marek, InoTEX, Czech Republic Eco-friendly surface modification with tannic acid of UHMWPE fibers and portential use in radiation protection Nebahat Aral, Yeditepe University, Turkey How to build a bio-based and recyclable imitation leather? Julie Capsalas, La Tannerie Vegetale, France Technical cellulose filaments from hemp (HighPerCell® x Iroony) Antja Ota, German Institutes of Textile and Fiber Research Denkendorf, Germany
15:30-16:00	Questions &amp; Answers, Summary and Closing

For registration and additional information visit: <https://www.eutt.net/registration>

The evening before the event, Thursday May 4th at 7pm, the EUTT will organize a network dinner in Frankfurt (self-pay). Registration required.

The organizers of the 7. European Industry and Research Exchange are:

